Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE _____ MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-2, 4, 6 and 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Thompson (US 4,561,124). Thompson discloses a garment (11) having an outer fabric covering the legs having inner pocket panel being coupled to an inner surface of a inner lining of the garment by permanent stitching (23, 24) as shown in figure 4. Further, a removable knee pad (31) is positioned between the pocket panel and the inner lining as shown in figure 4. In addition, a retaining panel (35) is disposed between the pocket panels and the inner lining as shown in figures 8 and 9. Furthermore, each of the pocket panel is defined by four edges that forms a first edge over the covering and is unfastened thereto while the second, third and fourth edges are connected to the covering so that the removable pad can be disposed between the pocket and the first folded edge as shown in figure 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 3 and 5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thompson.

With regard to claim 3, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to position the pocket panel on an outer surface of the inner lining as an alternative but equivalent means of securing a kneepad about the garment as known in the art.

With regard to claim 5, it would have been obvious that the kneepad can be permanently secured to the pocket panel and inner lining in order to maintain the kneepad in a fixed position relative to the garment.

5. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thompson as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Walton (US 6,317,893). Warner discloses the invention as set forth above except for showing the inner liner being removable.

Walton discloses a garment having pockets with kneepads having a removable inner lining, col. 6, lines 13-47 and as shown in figure 4.

Art Unit: 3765

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the inner lining of Thompson with a removable lining as taught by Walton. Doing so, would allow soiled or damage lining to be easily replaced or depending on the end use thereof.

Response to Amendment

6. The arguments filed on March 4, 2005 has been considered. In view of such, the 35 USC 102 (e) rejection of Warner '804 has been withdrawn. However, a newly discovered prior art reference has prompted this office action to be made new-non Final and the arguments are moot.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure.
